New Chamber Website to Launch by Month's End

Enhanced with new features to benefit members

The Chamber is in the process of overhauling its website to provide greater use and benefit for its members. We anticipate launching the new site before the end of the month. New features will include a fresh homepage with news you can use, enhanced business listings with interactive maps and directions to your business, online program and event registration, and the ability to update any of your member contact information directly from the website, just to name a few. In addition, the new website will have expanded relocation, quality of life and workforce information for newcomers to Wyoming County and those looking to move into the county. And finally, following the launch of the new website members will receive a monthly E-

Annual Report Marks Major Milestones

This past year marked some major milestones by the Wyoming County Chamber in terms of its involvement in developing and now administering new programs that will further its mission to improve the economic business climate of Wyoming County. The Empire Zone, the Wyoming County Business Center and Leadership Wyoming are three new dynamic programs.

It was in July of 2006 that Wyoming County was awarded an Empire Zone. The Wyoming County Empire Zone has 1,280 acres of property located in it and for businesses that are making a major capital investment and creating jobs the benefits offered as tax credits can be a very attractive.

The Chamber, on behalf of the Wyoming County Board of Supervisors, established and is administering the Wyoming County Business Center, Inc. (a local development corporation). The Business Center is currently administering the Empire Zone Program, assisting with the development of a business park and in the near future will be acquiring and rehabilitating real estate for reuse by the business community of Wyoming County.

The Chamber also developed and is administering a Leadership Wyoming program, a program that was talked about for years and was launched this year by the Chamber. The Leadership Wyoming program is a multifaceted program that provides participants with an increased knowledge and understanding of the inner-workings of the county educational systems, businesses, government and organizations. The program as a whole is designed to develop an informed group of leaders, who will have a strong sense of ownership, trustworthiness, responsibility and a commitment to the common good of Wyoming County.

In addition to the new programs the Chamber has also continued its economic development work. The Chamber has played an integral role in assisting numerous businesses on expansion projects as well as a number of new start up businesses.

The Chamber is proud of our accomplishments of the past year. "We recognize that our success is due to the strong support from our members, our Board of Directors, Community Investors (now numbering twenty-three), the Wyoming County IDA and the Wyoming County Board of Supervisors. Collectively we are all working to create a healthy economic business climate in Wyoming County," stated Chamber Executive Director James Pierce.

The Annual Report is made available to our members and funding partners. If you would like a copy please contact the Chamber office.

How to be an effective small business owner

Small business owners always seem to have time on their hands. Just kidding.

"We continually hear from our small business members about how they have so much on their plates. From billing, to payroll, to human resources, the list goes on and on," stated Bruce Camp, Chair of the Small Business Committee. So how do you manage the daily grind and become an effective small business owner? Join us for an evening seminar (6-8pm) on Tuesday, October 16th to find out. The program will focus on organizational management, time management, marketing, and creating balance. Watch your mail for registration information.

Would you like a business visit?

Most economic development growth in any county or region comes from existing businesses. The Chamber recognizes this and makes regular visits to businesses that hold the best potential for economic growth of Wyoming County. The purpose of these visits is to listen and learn about concerns or plans for future growth. It is then the Chamber's job to tackle the concerns and identify programs and resources that can assist with growing your business. If you would like a confidential business visit please contact Jim Pierce at the Chamber at (585) 237-0230.

Membership Special Spread the Word

The Chamber is currently running a membership special and we're asking you, our current members, to help spread the word.

The Chamber typically sends out membership information to prospective members each December for a Chamber membership for the following year. While we typically have a strong response to this, we felt we were still missing businesses that would like to join the Chamber but are experiencing a slower business time during the winter months. So, we have created options for a business to join the Wyoming County Chamber of Commerce.

Option 1 - Become a Mid-Year Member

Join now and your membership will be good for a full year. You won't be billed again until June 2008. Your business will receive a free classified business listing in the 2008 Business Directory (distributed to over 20,000 Wyoming County residents and businesses); your business will be listed on the Chamber's website (with a free direct link to your website); you will receive a complimentary admission to a Business After Hours to be redeemed in your first year of membership; and you will also enjoy all of the benefits of Chamber membership.

Option $2 - \frac{1}{2}$ price 6-month membership

Consider this a test-drive. You will enjoy all of the benefits of a full year membership for the rest of 2007 at half the cost. Then, when you renew your membership in December, you will guarantee your free classified business listing in the 2008 Business Directory. You will also continue to enjoy the many benefits of your Chamber membership without interruption

Join Now – It's So Simple

We certainly hope these new options help to make it easier for businesses to become a member of the Wyoming County Chamber of Commerce. If you know of a business that might want to join they simply need to choose which membership fits their business best (the ½ price for 6 months or the Mid-Year Membership), and then call the Chamber office at (585) 237-0230 for an application. It's that simple.

2007 Community Investors

Throughout the year, you continuously see a list of 23 Wyoming County businesses with the title of "Community Investor." What exactly does that mean? Community Investors are business leaders that are willing to step forward and, in essence, serve as an advocate and representative for the Chamber's membership. A Community Investor is also a business leader that recognizes that the work of the Chamber is critical to the economic health of Wyoming County. We again extend our gratitude to the following Community Investor Businesses:

Marketing Wyoming County

Chamber continues to market the County to bring in new business

At least three times a year for the past three years, the Chamber has targeted a core list of dairy, cheese and potato processors encouraging them to relocate their business to Wyoming County. In addition, the Chamber regularly targets commercial realtors and commercial developers to keep them aware of buildings and green sites available in the county.

The Chamber is now gearing up to expand its contact with commercial realtors and developers. Throughout the summer and fall Chamber Executive Director Jim Pierce will be traveling to Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse to meet face to face with realtors and developers to "sell Wyoming County." Information sheets have been put together on numerous commercial sites and green sites available for purchase or lease. In addition, Wyoming County's new Empire Zone and our business advantages will certainly be touted in these meetings.

Example of the site sheets to be distributed to commercial realtors and lenders. View the complete list of sites available at www.wycobusiness.org

Attention Manufacturers Lean Six Sigma Class to be Offered

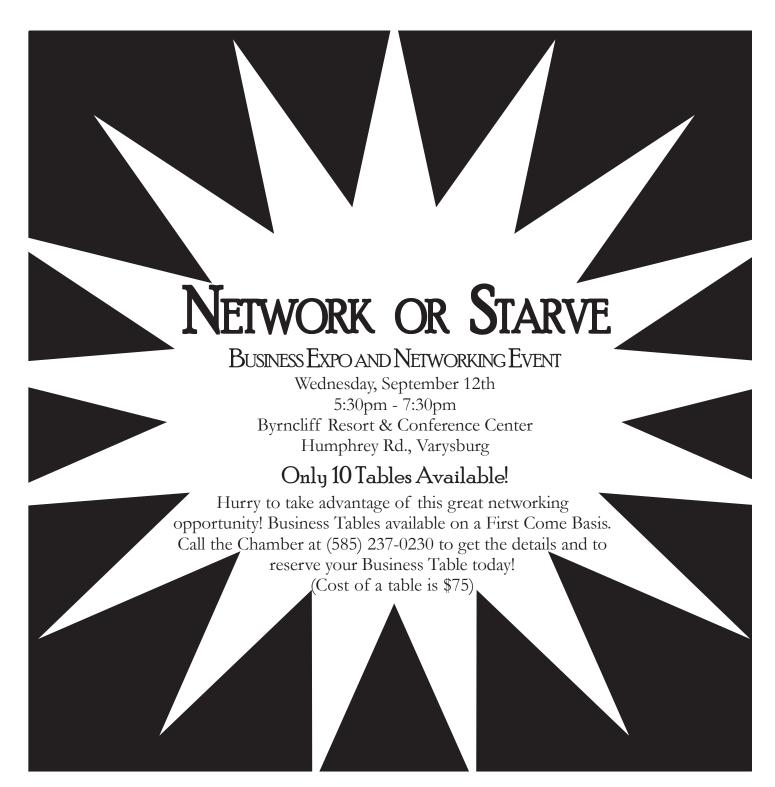

The Chamber's Industry Committee will be offering an introductory class on Lean Six Sigma for Chamber member manufacturers. Bob Lukaszonas, Founder and President of LEAN Engineering will present this introductory class on Tuesday, September 25th from Noon – 1pm at the Wyoming County Chamber.

Trained in the Toyota Production System by Toyota engineers, Mr. Lukaszonas has over 14 years of experience applying the lean methodology to different types of industries all over the world including manufacturing, healthcare, distribution, service, and office.

He has a B.S. in Industrial Technology and an A.A.S. in Industrial Engineering Technology. In addition he is certified as a Six Sigma Black Belt, APICS, NIST–MEP LEAN and Kaizen JIT, and he is member of The American Society for Quality at the Rochester, NY Chapter.

Mr. Lukaszonas operates as a change agent, lean engineer, implementation specialist, coach and facilitator. A strong believer in learning by doing and people involvement, he facilitates the hands on teaching and implementation of lean. He brings years of experience in successful lean implementations, industrial engineering, and operations management.

The program will take place at the Chamber office. Space is limited so we request that you send no more than 2 representatives per company. There is no cost to attend this session but advance registration is required. Please call the Chamber at (585) 237-0230 to reserve a spot today.
